

The Creativity Empowerment Experience
Join Us for Surf Styling, Hollywood Glamour + Inspiration for Your Imagination
October 21 + 22

Get ready to get the ultimate Southern California travel education! During this event filled with activities and excursions, you get to do surf styling on the famous San Clemente beach, plus develop your Hollywood red carpet savvy at real red carpet locales.

You will also be introduced you to the new field of Authentic Education, where you learn new skills and gain career building insights while you genuinely enjoy fun activities. It's exactly how successful learning takes place in the real world. Get trained this weekend to be more creative and confident. Be ready to succeed in any situation. Become more imaginative, bold and resourceful with this unique opportunity for active, hands-on practice.

Imagine how much more fun and value you will have at work, when you are ready to make learning a positive everyday experience.

Here's some details about our event

Mealtimes are filled with interactive, team communication games so you have full, fun days of speaking, sharing, listening, collaborating and getting to know yourself and others. You will have plenty to share on social media!

This course includes some preparation work before you attend, so you are 100% ready to take action at our event. Plus, you'll get support and exercises so you continue the learning and use the skills you get in camp. You will get a special membership log-in to our learning center so you are ready to participate and continue learning even after our event! Plus, you'll have a community of other participants to share your US experience with while you are here, and then keep in contact with when you return home.
